

Tsu City support program for childbirth and child-rearing

英語

Tsu City will expand the consultation service for expectant mothers and child-rearing families to reassure their concerns. The City will also provide financial support for eligible households after they submit their pregnancy notice and birth certificate.

1. Support consultations

- (1) Eligible applicants
All pregnant women and households with children, with priority for those with children between 0 and 2 years old.
- (2) Contents
Providing information and support for childbirth and child-rearing planning alongside the expectant mothers and households with small children.

Consultation periods	Contents
On submitting pregnancy notification (1st consultation)	According to the questionnaire you fill out, you will have an interview to consult about your concerns. Your own childbirth/child-rearing plan will be set out with the help of public health nurse.
8 months pregnant (2nd consultation)	The questionnaire will be sent out to expectant mothers. After you return the form, if you want, you can have another consultation and receive useful information to clarify questions or concerns about childbirth and child-rearing.
2 months after birth (3rd consultation)	When the public health nurse visits, please fill out the questionnaire. Depending on your concerns, Tsu City will offer available supporting service.
